SEXUALITY ACROSS THE LIFESPAN:
Supporting the Sexuality of Clients We Serve
Friday, October 18, 2019

9:00am-2:00pm

Location: Lisa Stewart Women's Health Center - 330 Main Street - Bar Harbor, ME

In this workshop we will:

- Demystify sex therapy & the role of sex therapist
- Educate therapists on the importance of sexual health throughout the lifespan
- Assist non-sex therapists in understanding their critical role as front line providers & gatekeepers for sexual health & growth for their clients
- Encourage open dialogue between therapists & clients about sexuality & sexual health
- Learn how therapists can assist clients in achieving better sexual health & satisfaction
- Provide exercises for therapists to open up dialogue about sexuality & sexual health
- Provide a resource list for therapists for continued learning

5 CONTINUING EDUCATION HOURS

Jennifer Wiessner, LCSW, CST (She/Her/Hers) is a licensed clinical social worker, certified sex therapist, sex educator and writer in Cumberland, Maine. She has a private therapy practice and sees couples and adult individuals and creates and facilitates Raising Sexually Healthy Children workshops across the state to educate parents on why talking to their kids and teens about sexuality is a healthy and normal part of life. Jennifer also trains and consults with parents, medical students, nurses, physicians, schools, camps, churches, professionals and therapists on sexual health. Jennifer is a mom to a 8th and 5th grader and wife to Greg.
